LEAP is a year-long learning community that enables new students to transition more confidently to college and to play an active role in their own education. Students work with outstanding faculty in small classes and participate in social and service activities with other students and with Peer Advisors. We believe that the purpose of education is to prepare students for further education and finally to become life-long lovers of learning. A year-long learning community, LEAP gets students off to a great start in college. As our acronym suggests, we encourage and facilitate learning about crucial contemporary issues; engagement with classmates, professors, the campus and the wider community; individual educational achievement; and progress toward graduation and personal career goals.
